

NATIONAL ALLIANCE OF VICTIMS' RIGHTS ATTORNEYS

AN ALLIANCE OF THE NATIONAL CRIME VICTIM LAW INSTITUTE

NAVRA promotes the exchange of knowledge and resources to foster a national network of skilled attorneys to represent crime victims in the criminal justice system.

NAVRA presents its Fall 2006 teleconference training:

PROTECTING VICTIMS' PRIVACY: PROSECUTORS, VICTIM ATTORNEYS AND ADVOCATES WORKING TOGETHER

WHEN

Monday, October 30th, 2006

9:30 am (Hawaiian)	1:30 pm (Mountain)
11:30 am (Alaska)	2:30 pm (Central)
12:30 pm (Pacific)	3:30 pm (Eastern)

WHERE

Anywhere you want, as long as you have phone access.

WHY

Protecting victim privacy is one way to alleviate the re-victimization victims experience as they wend their way through the criminal justice system. This presentation will help trainees understand the prosecutor's role in protecting privacy, and will identify when victim privacy can best be protected by prosecutors vs. when such privacy may be better served by victim attorneys or other private victim advocates.

WHO

All NAVRA members can participate

PRESENTER

Teresa Scalzo is the Director of the National Center for the Prosecution of Violence Against Women (NCPVAW) at the American Prosecutors Research Institute (APRI). Ms. Scalzo has traveled across the country lecturing to prosecutors, law enforcement officers, victim advocates and other allied professionals on various issues related to violence against women. She has also provided technical assistance and trial support to criminal justice professionals throughout the nation and has served on a number of national committees dealing with sexual assault and domestic violence.

Ms. Scalzo is the author of Preliminary Hearings: A Manual for Pennsylvania Prosecutors, which was published by the Pennsylvania District Attorneys Association. She was a contributing author for the Pennsylvania Benchbook on Crimes of Sexual Violence. Additionally, she has authored numerous articles for The Prosecutor, the magazine of the National District Attorneys Association and The Voice, NCPVAW's newsletter. In 2001, Ms. Scalzo received the Allied Professional Award for Outstanding Commitment to Victims' Services from the Crime Victims Council of the Lehigh Valley. She graduated from Temple Law School in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and is a member of the Pennsylvania bar, the Eastern District of Pennsylvania bar and the Third Circuit Court of Appeals bar.
